Cemetery Description and Author Information

The first recorded burial at Pleasant Street Cemetery was in 1846. There are gravestones, monuments and memorials for prominent citizens of the town, as well as 'every-day' residents and families. The cemetery also contains the graves and memorials for a large number of Claremonters who served in the Civil War, including many who made the 'ultimate sacrifice'.

A small number of burials have taken place since the beginning of the 21st century, many in family plots that span several generations.

The most recent interment at Pleasant Street Cemetery was November 20, 2024, in Section H, lot #30 (per Public Works Department, March, 2025).

Lois Buchan is a native of Claremont, as was her father. Her childhood home is at 16 West Pleasant Street, across from the Pleasant Street Cemetery.

An 1896 book documenting gravestones in the "ancient cemeteries" of Claremont did not include those at Pleasant Street, which was the "new" cemetery at the time.

This book is meant to be a record of all of the known burials and markers in Pleasant Street Cemetery.

The author has used original sextons' records, as well as newspaper archives, death records, family and town histories and local historical sources.

Research
2019-2025

This project began with photo requests for headstones at Pleasant Street Cemetery in 2019 for the Find a Grave website.

Beginning in late 2019, I took photos of the visible gravestones at the cemetery, including many that had fallen and were partially sunken into the ground.

Thanks to the Claremont Public Works Department, I was able to access plot cards, cemetery charts, and also the preserved set of ledger books that had been kept by the original 2 sextons, Alfred Burrill (1812-1883) and his son George H. Burrill (1848-1921). These ledgers began with the earliest recorded burial, in May of 1846, and continued until about 1918. They contain names, dates of death and burial, and location of burial at the cemetery. The sextons also recorded instances in which a person was buried or entombed in this cemetery and later reinterred in another lot, or to a location outside of this cemetery. Not every name was transcribed onto cemetery plot cards or a list of deceased. It is hoped that this document can present a more complete, accurate listing.

Charles B. Spofford, in his 1896 book documenting gravestones in Claremont, NH, wrote: "No records of deaths in town were kept, except by families, before 1846. From 1846 to date, a careful record has been kept, the credit for it being due to Mr. Alfred Burrill, for many years sexton of the town, and its continuance by his son, George H. Burrill, his successor as sexton." [see page 11 – Sources]

This document contains records of deaths and burials, and also includes mention of memorial cenotaphs, or stones that name someone who was buried elsewhere. Pleasant Street Cemetery contains a large number of Civil War Veterans, as well as Veterans of other time periods. There are also cenotaphs in memory of soldiers whose bodies did not come home after their deaths.

References to military service are noted, and it is possible that there may be additions to the total number of people who served in the military.

This is a project that may never be "complete". Information continues to be updated and revised.

I welcome suggestions for additions, revisions or corrections to this document.

I am a Claremont native, as was my father. My childhood home is at 16 West Pleasant Street, across from this cemetery. The cemetery has always held a fascination for me, particularly the gravestones of the many children buried there. I am hopeful that the information in this document will be of use to future researchers and genealogists

The first recorded burial at Pleasant Street Cemetery was in May, 1846, for John Waterman Harris.
The following are illustrations of ledger entries for his and his family's burial plot in Section C.
(Ledger numbers are mine – LB.) The lot was originally numbered as 59, later as 48. and finally as C 86.

There are 7 people buried in this plot. Each has a headstone:
John Waterman Harris, children Mary Frances Harris and James Benjamin Harris, Emeline (Smith) Harris, Thomas J. Harris, Myra (Beaumont) Harris and child Emma Melville Lamson.

Another challenge was that handwriting in the original ledger books was occasionally mis-read, leading to spelling errors of names. Some examples include:

John McCrillis Ayer and family – surname transcribed as 'McAyer'. Section E, lot 67
Whitcomb – transcribed as 'Whitcourt'. Section B, lot 101
Dutton – transcribed as 'Dulton'. Section C, lot 16, and Section D, lot 78
Putnam – transcribed as 'Putman'. Section A, lots 82 and 151; Section B, lot 80; Section C, lot 119
Parkhurst - transcribed as 'Parchurst' - Section E, lot 37
Shaw - transcribed as 'Shano' - Section B, lot 143

Cemetery records, as well as newspapers, often referred to an unnamed child as "son of", daughter of" or "infant" followed by only the father's name. I have added the mother's name, and the child's first name, if found.

Newspapers often referred to a married woman as "Mrs. [husband's surname] especially if she died before her husband. If she was widowed, her own first name was more often listed. When possible, I have added first names that were previously not on the record books.

Some gravestones have fallen, broken and sunken into the ground, making them very difficult to identify and read.

It is my hope to document the names and interment information of all of the individuals buried at Pleasant Street Cemetery so that they are not lost to history.

PLOT CHART ILLUSTRATIONS

Pages 26-31 illustrate examples of each of the systems of plot labeling that were used in Pleasant Street Cemetery. All of the pages illustrate present-day (2025) Section C.

Original set of numbers

The earliest burials at Pleasant Street Cemetery were in what is now called Section C, beginning in 1846. Plot #1 was located on the southern side of Section C. The earliest recorded burial was for John Waterman Harris, in plot #59. The original cemetery plots were numbered from 1-392, and were located in present-day Sections A, B, and C.

Second set of numbers

A second system of numbering plots replaced the original, with plots labeled as 1-840 (and some letters), located in present-day Sections A-H. The cemetery had expanded to its present boundaries. A “Cemetery Layout” set of charts was preserved in part of what this book calls Ledger 2. Lot #1 in this system was located on the northern side of what is now Section C. This set of numbers was used beginning about 1875.

Plots as presently listed

The current (2025) plot system is based on Section letters A-H, with plots in each of the sections beginning with the number 1, such as A 1. This system began to be used about 1910.

A 72, F 57 - NOTES – Ledgers seem to contain several possible errors and transpositions involving Edna Barnes and Linda Barnes.
Miss Edna Barnes died in 1861; Mrs. Linda Barnes died in 1862. Both were originally buried in Section A, lot 62, per Ledger 1 page 176. This page states that both were removed to other lots. At this point it seems likely that 2 errors was made on the page, as follows:

"Mrs. Edna Barnes, removed to lot 693" in May, 1877; Lot 693 became F 57. [Should read 'Linda Barnes']

"Miss Linda J. Barnes, removed to lot 353" . Lot 353 became A 72. [Should read 'Edna Barnes']

Edna Barnes was unmarried, and is "Miss" Barnes – she is named on the stone in A 72.

Linda Barnes was "Mrs. Barnes – she is named on the stone in F 57.

The errors were repeated on several other ledger pages.

Newspaper record of deaths in 1859 show a son of Guy Corser, not a daughter. There is one small stone that is very hard to read, that could say "Millie" or "Willie". Spencer Died June 22, 1875, AE 8 Ms. 22 Ds.* There are no inscriptions on the other 2 stones, but a death record for a premature son was found for 1874. B 38 - Note - Ledger 3 has a notation – "on blueprint, A. F. Eggleston lot". Ai F. Eggleston is buried at Graceland Cemetery in Chicago, IL, per record at that cemetery. Email correspondence states there is no evidence that his body was removed and returned to Claremont, nor do Pleasant Street Cemetery ledgers contain burial information. The 'National Eagle' of Claremont, February 25, 1871, states his remains were returned to Claremont. (likely an error)

B 51 - Note – Lot 51 is a double lot. The chart names Ormond Dutton as owner; a small section labeled 51A is in Simeon Heywood's name. Ledger 3 – the 'Lot Book' - has 3 different pages for this lot, with some duplicate names. There are 4 plot cards, some with cross-outs and duplicate names, and one mislabeled as Section C, lot 51B. The Dutton family section (now 51B, 5 graves, 1 cenotaph with 2 names, 1 name not found) and the Heywood section (now 51, 4 graves) are on the Mulberry Street side, and the Goddard section (now 51A, 18 graves), is toward West Pleasant Street.

Death record (transcribed) lists her age as 1 year, as does the cemetery ledger. Newspaper notice reads 6 years. Gravestone reads 9 years, 4 months - possibly a misreading of death date, which was 9/4. "Erected by her uncle, G. H. Backus".

B 56A – Note - Ledger 1 and 2 pages:

Mr. William Proctor	from Old Cemetery	no burial date
Son of William Proctor	" " "	no burial date
Mrs. Mary A. Farnsworth		1894
Mr. Daniel Farnsworth		1907
Mr. William Breck		1889

The "Lot Book" and the plot card name William Proctor as owner, but the only entry reads "William Proctor son of Mrs. Mary A. Farnsworth".
The Proctor stone names William, his wife Betsey who died in Wisconsin, and 3 children, who also have a memorial stone at Broad Street.
Mary and Daniel Farnsworth have gravestones, as do William and Susan Breck.
There is no indication of a "son of Mrs. Mary Farnsworth" – possibly a misreading of the ledger pages due to the " marks.

There seem to have been several transcription errors from the old ledgers to the plot card and Lot Book. It is hoped that the non-italic names listed in this document are an accurate transcription. Ormond Dutton Blood's sister married Isaac Austin's son. Likely that Ormond Dutton Blood was related to Ormond Dutton, who is buried in B 51.

B 99 – A 92 - Note – Section B chart, and plot card, name Israel and Joseph Young for lot 99. The gravestones are in A 92. Several errors made in ledger books: Ledger 1 pg. 206 mis-labels the lot # as #227; it should be #327. Ledger 2 pg. 202 mis-labels lot #327 as B 99. (B 99 would be #227) Ledger 3 pg, 23 is correct that these people are in A 92, but Ledger 3 pg 185 mistakenly has these same people in B 99. There are 2 plot cards, one for A 92 and one for B 99. The names are on the list of deceased twice, except for the 2 "--- of Israel" Young.

C 2, 2A, 2B - Notes – Ledger 2 has "B 21" written next to "132".. The lot was first numbered #77, then #132, and later C 2. There was only 1 person named John Brown who died in Claremont in 1882; the same name appears in 2 ledger entries, one for this lot and the other for B 21. Since his wife Harriet K. Brown Hadley is in this lot, it seems most likely that John Brown is here also. There were 2 people named John Roberts in Claremont in 1850; one age 17 and the other, John D. Roberts, age 23. Uncertain of the father of daughter Ann, though likely John D., as his brother-in-law Charles Sargent is buried in this plot.

C 4 - Note – Lot C 4 was divided into 2 sections, 4 and 4A, at some point. There are 2 plot cards. The gravestone for John Read is on the northern side of the lot. (lot 4) Gravestones for Alden Bliss (and Caroline and Annie) and Eleanor Loveland are on the southern side. Alden, Caroline and Annie Bliss share 1 stone and should likely be labeled as being in lot #4A.

C 121 – Note - The 2 ledger books list "daughter of Timothy Rossiter", with an interment date of September 15, 1855. Ellen A. Rossiter died September 13, in 1854, not 1855; She would likely have been interred on Sept. 15. Possibly an error in the ledger. Under that is written "child of Timothy Rossiter, from old cemetery", with no dates. No further information found; child may have been stillborn.

D 46 - Note – John and Julia Simonson are listed on the 1870 census in Claremont, taken in June. National Eagle report of 1871 deaths lists a daughter, who died May 1, 1870 aged 2 weeks. Death record (transcription) lists age as 14 months (likely 14 days). Also – a transcribed birth record shows a son born April 10, 1870 (probably the daughter who died 2 weeks later).

F 57, A 72 - NOTES – Ledgers seem to contain several possible errors and transpositions involving Edna Barnes and Linda Barnes. Miss Edna Barnes died in 1861; Mrs. Linda Barnes died in 1862. Both were originally buried in Section A, lot 62, per Ledger 1 page 176. It is possible that 2 errors was made on the page, as follows: "Mrs. Edna Barnes, removed to lot 693" in May, 1877; Lot 693 became F 57. [Should read 'Linda Barnes'] "Miss Linda J. Barnes, removed to lot 353" . Lot 353 became A 72. [Should read 'Edna Barnes'] Edna Barnes was unmarried, and is "Miss" Barnes – she is named on the stone in A 72. Linda Barnes was "Mrs. Barnes – she is named on the stone in F 57. The errors were possibly repeated on several other ledger pages.

G 17 - Note – Cemetery plot card lists only Mary Hastings buried in this plot; the others are named on the plot card for G 68.. Ledger 3, page 133, also lists only Mary Hastings. Emri, Edith, and their children - twins Henry and Herbert, Harvey and Charles - are named on the stone in G 17. However, Ledger 3 puts them in G 68. Ledger 3, page 135, states 'Family claims John or Jonas buried elsewhere'. The confusion was possibly due to the fact that both Jonas Hastings and John Hastings owned plots, and both had wives named Mary. See note for G 68.

CONCLUSION

In 1896, Charles B. Spofford made a record of visible gravestones in the "Ancient Cemeteries" of Claremont, NH. Pleasant Street Cemetery was not included in the record, as it was Claremont's "new" cemetery at that time.

This book was created to document the burials at Pleasant Street Cemetery, using Sextons' records from Alfred and George H. Burrill, as well as newspaper notices, death records and gravestone evidence. The photos and descriptions that follow illustrate the graves and biographies of some of the deceased.

As of Januaryt 2025, more photos and information were posted to the Find a Grave website.

First recorded burial. May, 1846. John Waterman Harris, age 19 years. "Late Student of Waterville College, Maine". He died in February of 1846; the body was placed in the tomb to await burial. The stone has eroded over the years, with a hole where a letter should be.

JOHN STONE who was killed by the fall of a tree Dec. 18. 1807, in the 28th year of his age." Originally buried in Washington, Vermont. His remains were brought to Claremont in 1929.
